

1   ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

2       A decorative light has a first adapter integrally formed with the decorative light and a
3   second adapter integrally formed with the decorative light and opposed to the first adapter.
4   The first adapter has a collar slidably mounted on the decorative light and has inner thread
5   formed to correspond to the outer thread on the second adapter. Therefore, the total length of 6   the decorative light is able to extend by screwing the collar of one decorative light to the 7   second adapter of another decorative light. Furthermore, a plug is able to detachably connect 8   to the first adapter to protect the first adapter from damage.